

pink poppies

...living creatively

Privacy Notice

The following contains: Important privacy information for the members of the Pink Poppies Club.

This privacy notice is provided to you by pink poppies living creatively and contains important information regarding the collection, use, disclosure and security of your personal information.

Collection

the information we collect includes:

- Information provided by you on the Application Form
- Transactional information when you shop using your pink poppies club card such as when you shopped, your purchases and method of payment

Use and disclosure

Pink poppies may use your information to keep you informed about special promotions, events, product launches and other special offers and discounts, relevant to the club and its Members through various communication channels unless otherwise advised.

For the prevention and detection of fraudulent activity, your information may be shared with law enforcement bodies and as and if required by legislation.

Safeguarding your information

Pink poppies living creatively will take all reasonable steps to ensure your personal information is protected from unauthorised access, misuse, modification and disclosure while stored by us.